All Saints Centre

As our picture shows, the next phase of our new building is well underway and when opened in February 2011 will provide brand new facilities for use by community organisations. As well as rooms for hire (see over) we will have some small first floor offices suitable for long and short term leasing by community organisations and would welcome enquiries from interested groups. For further details please contact the All Saints Office on 0121 443 4421 or email info@allsaintscentrehk.co.uk

All Saints Centre – Rooms for Hire

All Saints Centre directors are looking forward to the completion of the next phase of the community building when they will be responsible for managing the use of the ground floor rooms – these will include the new hall, welcome space and café space. We will be providing space for a range of activities some of which already meet on our site but also for some new ones. You may, for example, wish to use our rooms for a gathering after a funeral or a family party after a baptism.

So watch out for information as the building reaches completion in the New Year and come and talk to us about how you may wish to use the new facilities.- 0121 443 4421

Greenbelt 2010 – The Art of Looking Sideways

On 27th August at 7.30 a.m. an excited group of young people and adult leaders met at All Saints to travel in convey for our annual camp at Greenbelt. Greenbelt is a Christian arts festival on Cheltenham race course. Because it had rained for 2 solid days before, there was concern about the likelihood of being washed away but we just had a few drops of rain on the Friday evening – which resulted in a magnificent rainbow – and that was it. A dry weekend, with some sunny parts.

The 14 of us spent Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday cooking (and washing up), talking, and sharing together on the campsite, and listening to talks, music, worship and taking part in activities, including dance, drama and arts on the festival site. On Sunday morning we joined 10,000 others at the open air communion service - part of the crowd and main stage are shown above.

A really great weekend.
