Coustis Fundraising For Youth Project

Coustis hairdressers (on the High Street) have been celebrating their 30 years in business by raising money for All Saints Youth Project. They have run several very successful events over the year including a craft sale, a poetry evening, an art exhibition and a talk about the Archers. The year of fundraising finished on February 8th with a party in the centre with wine, music and good company. These events were all very enjoyable and also involved lots of people donating their time and expertise. These have included Barclays Bank, Gigalite, Sainsbury's, Canvas Frames, Tickle me Creative, the Hare and Hounds, Cup Cakes by Shalika, Two Thirds Designs, many talented local artists and musicians, and more. And, of course, the Coustis staff team - they raised the fantastic sum of just over £5,000.

Mary Miles from the youth project said "we would like to thank Coustis for their amazing hard work and generosity in raising this large sum for the youth project. Times are difficult for organisations like ourselves but due to this initiative from a local business we are able to continue our work in supporting local young people.

Water and Cities

A photographic exhibition by Khaled El Hagar

As a filmmaker , images are what I look for ; they are my passion . I was born in Suez , Egypt - the famous city by the Red Sea . I grew up seeing water surrounding my country ; the Nile ; the Red Sea and the Mediterranean . In all my films and TV work , I have included cities on water . Water has become part of the drama and one of the characters . I love the sea , oceans and rivers and have always wanted to live near water . Water calms me down , makes me more creative and cleanses my soul .

In these photos , I have tried to capture my feeling , my desire and my love for water through three iconic cities ; Alexandria , Venice and St.Ives . Three beautiful places where water plays an integral part .

Forthcoming exhibition :

William H. Painter raise funds for the Queen Elizabeth Hospital

A charity fundraising day to support The Mick Grainger Memorial Fund was recently held at William H Painter Funeral Directors on Kings Heath High Street. Family and friends of the well-known and much loved business man, supported by Heart Research UK in the Midlands, are raising money to buy a special cardiac machine for use at the Queen Elizabeth Hospital in Birmingham. The day was organised by Tina Woodley, funeral arranger, and Anne Grainger, wife of the late Michael Grainger. Shoppers and passers-by were treated to the wonderful sounds of Scottish bagpipes played by Pipe Major Martin Hewins along with a charity tombola, tea, coffee and cakes.

Cooshoo Shoe Shop Wins Award

Cooshoo, an independent children's shoe shop in Kings Heath, known locally for their quirky and playful shop window displays, have stamped out the competition at the National Footwear Industry Awards to bring home the highly coveted award, National Shop Front of the Year. "We are lucky to have a number of exciting independent retailers in Kings Heath, who represent the town centre so brilliantly. All of us at Kings Heath BID are extremely proud of Cooshoo's well-deserved success at the Footwear Industry Awards. We're looking forward to their next wonderful window display!"
