Harvest Festival

Our harvest service on 6th October at 10am this year will be framed by the musical, The Climate Changer, by Sarah Baker. The story raises the issues of how lifestyle choices contribute to deforestation and climate change. At a time when the climate emergency can seem overwhelming, the central message of the musical is that small changes can make a big difference if each person does what they can. In the evening there will be a second performance at 6.30. All are welcome. The morning service will be followed by a soup lunch at 12.45. This will also be an opportunity to comment on the church's draft Green policy, and to discuss how we move from bronze to silver Eco-church. Bring and share contributions to the lunch are very welcome.

Art Exhibitions

Following A Drawing Life by Nicky Braithwaite, which continues exhibiting in All Saints Centre Cafe until mid October 2019, All Saints Community Arts, who have now curated 55 shows in the Welcome Space, will be presenting a permanent selected group exhibition: Local Colour - a celebration of the many Birmingham artists who have had solo shows with us over the past 7 years. This exhibition of 12 artists will run initially for 12 months. All works will be for sale and as they are sold both artists and works on show will change.

All enquiries regarding sales should contact :rider.janice@gmail.com or leave a message at the Welcome Desk.
